Jitsi Meet

It is a free software platform for online conferences.

How to use this application?

On a computer

- You need to enter this address, to open a new meeting room: https://meet.mayfirst.org/

- Give a name to the room: Testmeeting

- This is how it will look: https://meet.mayfirst.org/Testmeeting

- To use on a mobile phone you need to download the application.

- It is necessary to have a good internet signal (enter from the Google Chrome browser, this makes it easier to use the audio and the camera).

The following slides provide some suggestions.

SIMULTANEOUS TRANSLATION.

It is recommended that the person doing the simultaneous translation should listen to the person who is going to translate with the volume at 20% and that the person who is going to listen to the translation should turn up the volume of the person doing the translation to 80%. The rest of the participants should have their microphone closed. Translators can write in their user name the name of the language they will translate.
